During Eurocucina in Milan, for which Nolte Küchen takes a "positive balance", Managing Director Eckhard Wefing also officially confirmed his participation in the Cologne LivingKitchen 2019: "As one of the leading kitchen manufacturers with national and international requirements, we see the German trade fair in Cologne as an important platform through which we will continue to set valuable impulses for our brand and corporate development in 2019 in a two-year change with Eurocucina. As the most popular kitchen brand in Germany, Nolte Küchen expects another increase in the relevance of LivingKitchen for the international audience next year as well as an intensification of our brand presentation to the end customer.
